BLISTER EXPRESS CENTER 300

These days, medicines are increasingly being customized to suit regional and target group needs. For globally operating pharmaceutical companies, generics manufacturers and contract packagers this means that the volumes of packaging batches are decreasing. As a result, even greater attention is paid to the flexibility and economic efficiency of packaging lines. Uhlmann is responding to this trend with the presentation of its new Blister Express Center 300. The latest member of the Blister Express Center family is an integrated system geared to frequent and quick format changeovers. BEC 300 offers a remarkable price-performance ratio based on reliable Uhlmann quality.

With changeovers completed in 20 minutes, the reliable processing of all common packaging designs, and reasonably priced sets of format parts, BEC 300 pays for itself in no time at all. Furthermore, the format area with blister size of 95 x 145 mm and a carton up to 115 x 90 x 150 mm allows a wide range of applications.

The compact BEC300 produces up to 300 blisters and 150 cartons per minute. The servo-driven line is barely eight meter long. The transfer of the blisters to the cartoner is direct and dispenses with the need for any format parts. The manual filling of the counting magazine is also unnecessary. The line only requires 12 format parts.

Like all other Uhlmann machines, the BEC300 boasts self-adjusting operating processes, GMP-compliant machine design with easy-to-clean stainless steel surfaces as well as straightforward operation and servicing. To allow the processing of diverse product forms, the user can select from a comprehensive range of feeding systems. The filling efficiency is up to 99.9 percent.

Additional advantages of the Blister Express Center 300 are the numerous configuration options. For instance, separation of the primary packaging area, inline solutions for lid foil printing. It is also possible to integrate Track & Trace by Uhlmann.
