

TUBILUX PHARMA

The specialists of eye health.

Tubilux Pharma is an Italian Company with an international scope for over 50 years and It is leader in the field of ophthalmology.

Thanks to the profound scientific know how, using the most modern technology and constant drive towards innovation, Tubilux Pharma has managed to carve out a prominent space in ophthalmology, earning the highest reputation, both in Italy and abroad.

To achieve its objectives and better meet the needs of its customers, Tubilux Pharma uses its technology in a sterile environment equipped with advanced machinery and equipments and it is able to produce ointments, gels, drops, thanks to its research laboratories, and its technical and commercial staff highly competent and professional.

The future of excellence.

Tubilux Pharma has concentrated its activities in three well defined areas: the contract manufacturing business , the promotion of its own list of generic ophthalmic products, indicated for the treatment of a wide range of eye disorders such as glaucoma, inflammation, infections and dry eye, and last but not least the research and development in ophthalmology. In the area of contract manufacturing will be placed particular emphasis, offering a "full service" of products and services in the ophthalmic area.

A bid to the highest level of quality with the added bonus of a great deal of flexibility, that is capable of adapting to each specific customer needs: from the entire management of the "turnkey" for the development of one or more steps required to the launch of a product in the market.
